A grid of thin, light gray lines is overlaid on a background that is tilted at an angle. The grid lines are perpendicular to each other, creating a series of small squares. The background itself is a light, off-white color.

CLOSING

When I took on the responsibility as editor of this yearbook, I HAD NO IDEA of the time and headaches it would take to complete it. A lot of people heard me gripe and complain, but they put up with it and often gave me encouragement. Now it's finished . . . YEAH! OH BOY!

There are some people that deserve a great deal of credit in putting this yearbook together. JOSEPH REY AU you will never know how much I appreciate your time, patience and especially . . . photos! Thanks for not deserting me! Thank you Amy Daspit, Andy Zlotnik, Lorrان Meares and Randy Bailey for also helping with the photography. Thank you Susan Hunnicutt for doing all that typing! Thanks Dr. Sharpe for having patience and helping me on those deadlines (and for getting The Spongetones). And thanks again to everyone who gave me moral support . . . Jim Crack and Stevie Shoes, KELLY WOMAN, THE MOON SISTERS, AIMEE, MARE, SHELL, SUITEEEE, PARDNER, BUDD, TIM, PAUL . . . how DO you pronounce your last name? And last but not least, thanks to all of my teachers who gave me time to work on this.
